In response to (3), is felt to possess a technical talent superior to that of any NPIC personnel who could be made available to perform the proposed functions. He has had several years of experience in working intimately with NPIC interpreters and photogrammetrists on similar experimental programs. He has gained invaluable knowledge of Center operations and has become extremely perceptive in dealing with operational personnel on R&D requirements. He has contributed heavily in the past to several major NPIC research programs in direct support of operational components.
